In the lush green forest, Sally the Snake loved to slither and slide.

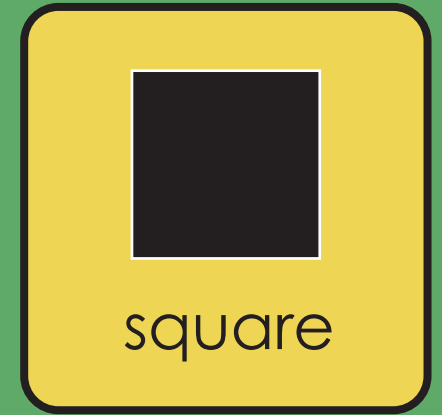

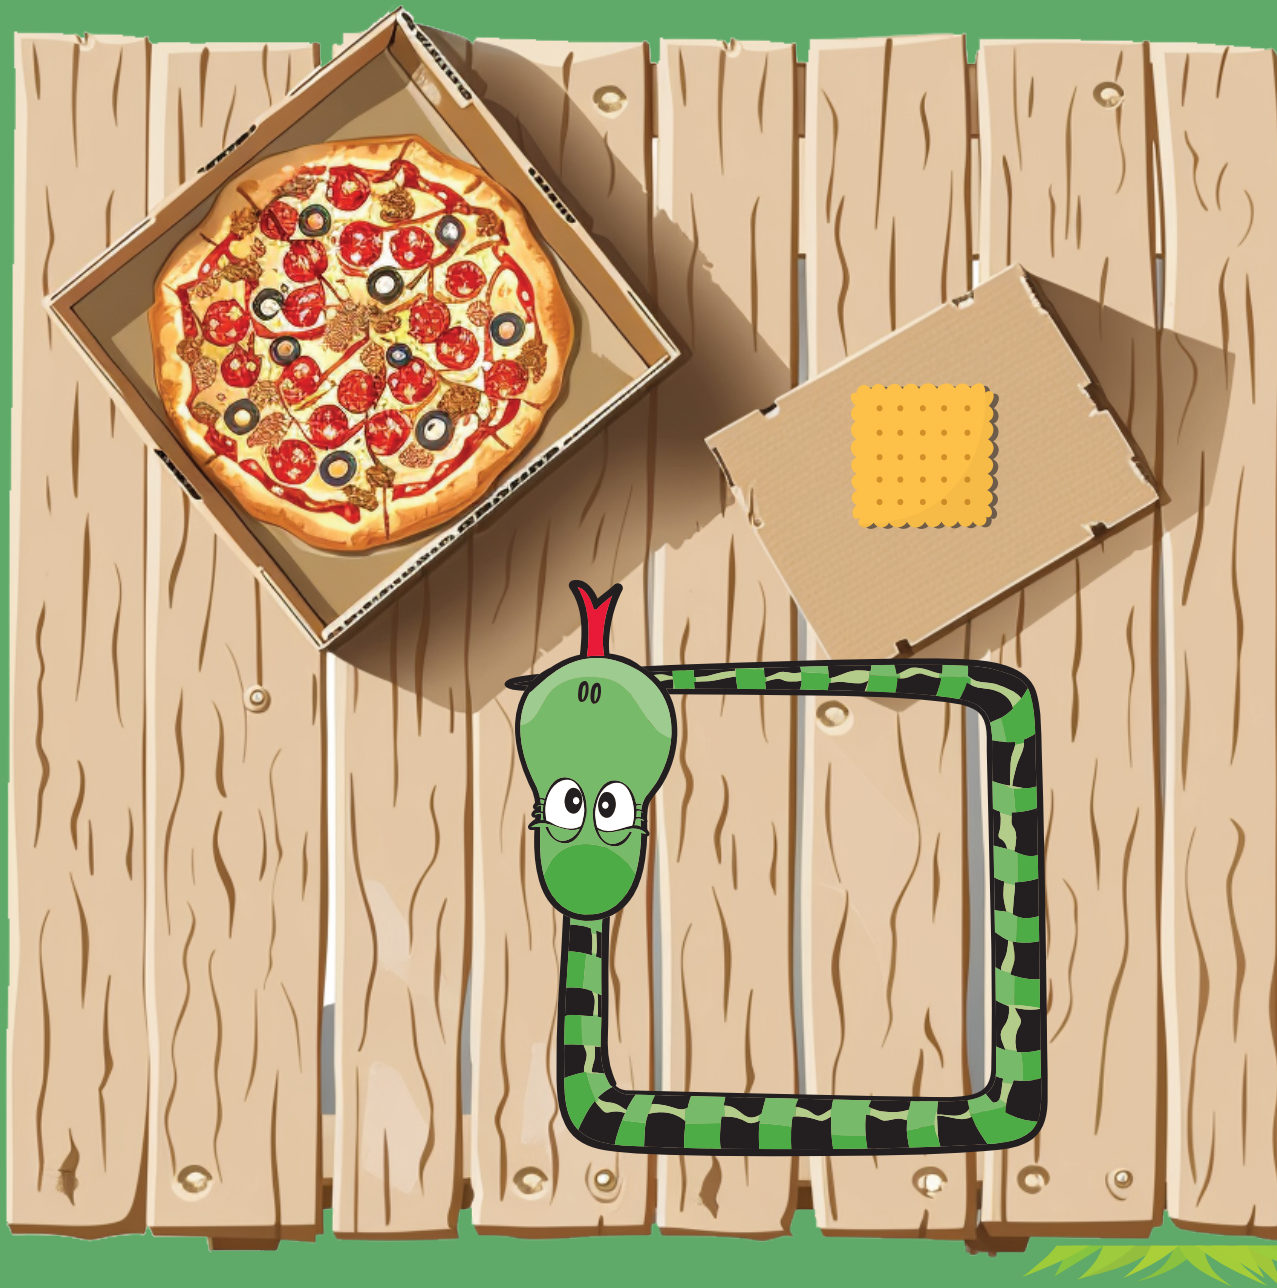

One sunny day, Sally decided to play a new game.
A shapes scavenger hunt!

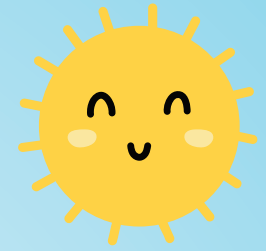

First, she found a pizza box and a cracker left by a picnic spot. "I found a square!" Sally exclaimed excitedly.

Sally twisted her body, bending sharply to mimic the square.

Next, she spotted a round sunflower.

"I found a circle!" Sally shouted, jumping with joy.

Sally curled up tightly to match the circle perfectly.

A group of triangular pine trees caught Sally's eye.
"Wow, so many triangles!" Sally said in amazement.

Sally twisted her body to create a triangle.

Then, she saw lots of rectangles on a house.
"Do you see the rectangles?" Sally asked.

Sally stretched out long and straight to match the rectangles.

In a clearing, there was an oval-shaped pond.
"Here's an oval!" Sally said happily.

Sally looped gracefully to form an oval by the water's edge.

Sally realized shapes were everywhere.

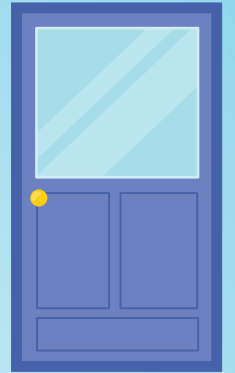

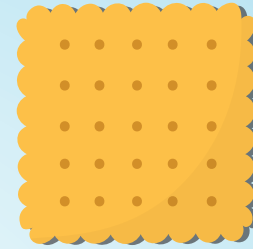

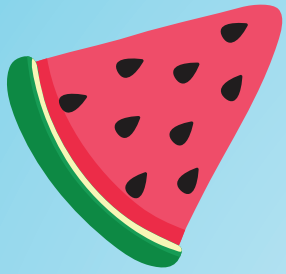

She slithered back to the pizza box to start the game again with her friends.

Look at everything they've found!
Can you name the shapes?
