

Sensing Christmas

I can see Christmas with my eyes.

It looks like bows, Santa Claus, and pies.

I can hear Christmas with my ears.

It sounds like jingle bells and holiday cheer.

I can feel Christmas with my skin.

It feels like blankets and a sticky chin.

I can taste Christmas with my tongue and my lips.

It tastes like gingerbread and frosting drips.

I can smell Christmas with my nose.

It smells like pine trees, popcorn, and snow.

My five senses tell me Christmas is near.

My five senses know it's that time of year.